

Thanks to Reviewers

I would like to offer my heart-felt gratitude to all colleagues who have acted as reviewers of papers submitted to the journal this year. Your contribution is very much appreciated by me of course because without it the journal could not function. But your feedback is also appreciated by many of the authors who have written to tell me how helpful that feedback is. Sadly, your hard work remains unrewarded and although it is scant compensation I would, at least, like to recognise your contribution by recording your names here with my thanks.
